Although a valuable reference for all project managers, this handbook was developed primarily for new and “accidental” project managers who manage projects as part of their role and not their profession. These project managers often lack the training or experience to effectively address many of the problems faced by seasoned project management professionals. Project Pain Reliever is uniquely organized in essentially a plug-and-play format designed to help these project managers quickly find specific solutions to the problems that they are desperate to fix right now!

Key Features

- Covers both the art and science of project management and is organized by problem so that users need only review the table of contents, find their problem within a sub-chapter heading, read through the solution, and apply it
- Delivers insightful peer-reviewed solutions from 36 project management thought leaders, subject matter experts and successful practitioners
- Each of the 93 sub-chapters describes a common project management problem and its warning signs in a way that is easy to relate to, explains what will happen if you do nothing, and outlines a best practice solution which provides specific steps and techniques for solving the problem
- Offers handy “What you have learned” summaries for addressing problems contained within the book, additional problems with solutions, and other useful resources — available from the Web Added Value™ Download Resource Center at www.jrosspub.com

“This is a wonderful and thorough overview of a number of very common, yet complex, problems and solutions that project and functional managers of all levels can benefit from. The honest writing style and poignant anecdotes also make this an enjoyable read. I’ve added Project Pain Reliever to my team’s professional reading list.”

—Aaron Hall, PMP, Vice President, Program Management and Product Development, K12 Inc.
Chapter 1: Focusing Your Efforts
1.1: Whom do I have to please?
1.2: How do I define “success” on this project?
1.3: Different people want different things at different times.
1.4: I’m technically on track, but not accomplishing what people wanted.
1.5: I feel like I need to start over.
1.6: I feel all alone. Where can I turn for advice?
1.7: Management just changed the goals. How do I reset the direction?
1.8: I’m having trouble making decisions.
1.9: Sponsors won’t decide what they want.
1.10: What my sponsor wants doesn’t make sense.
1.11: What makes my project important?

Chapter 2: Motivating People
2.1: I feel like I’m the only one who cares.
2.2: Team members aren’t excited about their work.
2.3: Team members question whether the project is worth doing.
2.4: People feel like they don’t get credit for the work they do.
2.5: My team doesn’t believe in their ability to execute.
2.6: My team doesn’t believe in the plan or schedule.
2.7: My team doesn’t believe in me as a manager.

Chapter 3: Effectively Communicating
3.1: How do I gain my team’s trust?
3.2: I don’t understand what my stakeholders want.
3.3: My team members misunderstand or will not follow my directions.
3.4: What should my relationships with my team look like?

Chapter 4: Navigating People Challenges
4.1: The office politics are killing me.
4.2: My sponsor doesn’t trust me or give me the authority I need.
4.3: My team members pad their estimates.
4.4: Some team members lack the skills they need.
4.5: Other projects keep stealing my resources.
4.6: My team isn’t really a team.
4.7: My team spends more time arguing than working.
4.8: There is too much finger pointing.
4.9: People around me have hidden agendas.
4.10: I do too much work to manage anything.

Chapter 5: Dealing with Constraints, Assumptions, and Scope
5.1: We took on too much.
5.2: Everything has changed. I need to reset goals and expectations.
5.3: We don’t have the resources we need.
5.4: We’re fine, but over budget.
5.5: We’re fine, but short on time.
5.6: We can get everything done on time and under budget, but not very well.

Chapter 6: Building and Delivering on Requirements
6.1: My sponsor told me what to do, but there’s not enough detail.
6.2: We ended up with the wrong design.
6.3: We have the wrong technology for the job.
6.4: The design meets the requirements, but does not satisfy the project’s goal.
6.5: Beyond being done, how do I measure quality?
6.6: The team is frustrated with rework based on changing requirements.
6.7: Our specifications are unclear.
6.8: We spend too much time on documentation.
6.9: Sponsors complain that documentation and training are insufficient.

Chapter 7: Planning
7.1: I don’t understand why we need to plan so much.
7.2: How do I break down a project into smaller parts?
7.3: Everything is “top priority.”
7.4: Someone must have done this before. Where do I find more info?
7.5: I have no idea how to estimate how long this will take.
7.6: The project management software is not helping me.
7.7: My schedule is totally unrealistic.
7.8: It’s hard for me to tell what is important (the critical path).
7.9: I made some wrong assumptions.
7.10: The company’s project management process doesn’t work for me.
7.11: Everything is urgent, and I’m behind.

Chapter 8: Managing People Day to Day
8.1: Meetings are a waste of time.
8.2: Vendors are not delivering.
8.3: People ignore my emails.
8.4: I may not have the right team.
8.5: I am not sure how much process is enough.
8.6: I do not know enough technical stuff to manage.
8.7: There are too many issues to handle in a timely fashion.
8.8: How much status is enough?
8.9: I don’t know how to test to ensure things will work.
8.10: I can’t work well with people at a distance.
8.11: I don’t know how to balance my project and team needs.

Chapter 9: Managing Risks
9.1: I didn’t realize what could happen if this project fails.
9.2: Problems keep popping up that I did not expect.
9.3: The importance of my project changed.
9.4: My project is too dependent on a few key people.
9.5: Some of this project is beyond my control.
9.6: Costs are much higher than we thought.
9.7: I don’t know if a real risk is an “issue.”
9.8: How do I know what might be a problem in the future?
9.9: Should we end this project early?
9.10: There’s been a crisis, beyond the scope of my project.
